- On the photo used as reference the turret are covered by a canvas, so it's impossible to tell if "Counter Attack" had any stars or not. Some Sherman in the Battalion are seen with over painted or very faded stars. Example show markings seen on "Crescent City" photographed at the same time.

- US Lusterless Olive Drab.
- Black.

No unit markings or company numbers seen on front glacis of this tank.

- The painted crew names are very blurry on the photos, so it's hard to see exactly what is written. I've included full names with ranks are given here, but all of them they might not have been used. On one photo the crew names are not seen as they might have been added very late in the war or "Post-VE-day".

- Sgt. Daniel "Butora" Cardell, commander.
- Pfc. Leonard Smith or Pfc. "Grady" Smith, loader.
- Pvt. Luther Goff, gunner. Sometimes seen spelled Goffe, but 761st TB's roster spells it Goff.
- On one photo, Wilson Kaiser Jr. is listed as a crew member. Even though the name are unreadable on the tank, the top name seems to end with two letters [A7].
- T4 Linson Ball, co-driver.
- Clark (TS Horace Clark), driver.
