MODERN HELLENIC AF PAINT SET VOL. 2

Standard colours of Greek aircraft since 1980s

Dassault Mirage 2000B0, 331. Squadron "Thiseas", 114. Combat Wing, Tanagra AB, 2011

JadarHobby

Dassault Mirage F1CG, 342. Squadron, 114. Combat Wing, Tanagra AB, 1996

The first aircraft in the Hellenic AF wearing the grey-blue colour was Mirage F1CG in 1975 (in original French scheme). Shortly afterwards the pilots of HAF requested to repaint the remaining interceptors into the "Aegean Blue" scheme. In early 1980s F-5As and F-4Es were repainted (at first using a mix of blue and grey, later standardized as FS35164). The first Greek "Ghost Scheme" painted aircraft was an F-16C Block 30 in 1988. The HAF opted for the new colours as majority of its missions is conducted above the sea (the scheme was the same as US Navy F-16N pattern). The first F-5A was repainted to "Ghost" in 1992, while the first F-4E in 1997.

Northrop F-5A Freedom Fighter, 343. Squadron "Aster", 113. Combat Wing, Thessaloniki AB, 1987

Lockheed Martin F-16D Block 52, 336. Squadron "Olymbos", 116. Combat Wing, Araxos AB, 2016
